Manager Blackett reported on the Statistical and Financial records of the Company. He noted an increase in revenues and margins. He also stated that new consumers are being served continuously.

President Dalton introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Earl E. Fenton, Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Fenton spoke on Community Development and the problems encountered by small communities. He advised that the lack of involvement and contribution of local people was a prime reason for development failures. The best method to be used is to get everyone in the community involved.
